ADMISSION TO Ph.D. PROGRAMME

Reference : File No. PG/PG/009452/2026 Dt.12/05/2026 Order of Hon'ble Vice Chancellor.

Veer Narmad South Gujarat University (VNSGU) invites online applications from eligible candidates for admission to the Ph.D. Programme across various disciplines in the following subjects.

The eligibility criteria, admission procedure (including the VNSGU-PET Entrance Test), reservation policy, and all other related guidelines shall strictly adhere to the university's "Ph.D. Ordinance".

Application Guidelines:

- Application Fee: Rs. 1300
- Mode of Application: Applications must be submitted online through the official university website: www.vnsgu.ac.in.
- Last Date for Online Submission: 25/05/2026 to 25/06/2026
- Hard Copy Submission: After successful online submission, candidates are required to submit a self-attested printout of the online application form, along with self-attested copies of all relevant supporting documents within 5 days from the last date of online application submission.
- Multiple Subjects: Candidates wishing to apply for more than one subject must submit a separate online application and pay the requisite fee for each subject.

Regarding Ph.D. Modes (Full-Time/Part-Time): Please note that specific clarifications and detailed guidelines concerning the Full-Time and Part-Time Ph.D. modes are currently under review by a university committee, following a resolution by the Board of Deans. This review includes pending decisions on matters such as the procedure for converting registration status between Full-Time and Part-Time, definitions of full-time work and assigned places, leave policies, duration of program, and specific requirements for No Objection Certificates (NOCs). Any decision taken by the university regarding Ph.D. Modes (Full-Time/Part-Time) at any stage of the admission process or during the Ph.D. programme shall be final and strictly binding on all candidates.

Provisional Application and Vacancy Declaration: To provide the maximum number of candidates with an opportunity to apply, applications are currently being invited prior to the formal declaration of available seats. The exact number of vacant seats will be announced before the admission process commences. If a candidate applies for a subject in which no seats are ultimately declared—either in the Unreserved (UR) category or within the candidate's respective reserved category—that candidate will not be included in the admission procedure, and their application fee will be refunded in full.

Entrance Test (VNSGU-PET) Validity: The validity of the VNSGU Ph.D. Entrance Test (PET) score is strictly limited to the current admission cycle and advertisement. Consequently, candidates who have cleared the VNSGU-PET in previous cycles, or those who have passed the PET of any other university, are not exempted and must appear for the current VNSGU-PET. (Note: Exemptions apply only to candidates who qualify for fellowships/scholarships in UGC-NET/UGC-CSIR NET/GATE/CEED/G-SET and similar National level tests, as per the Ph.D. Ordinance as well as as per the validity of respective test).

Crucial Dates for Eligibility: All general eligibility criteria must be met by the final application deadline (including extensions). However, to prevent any disadvantage to applicants regarding document expiration, a document will be considered valid if it is active on either the date this advertisement is published or the final application deadline. Therefore, candidates whose documents expire during the application period remain eligible based on the publication date. Candidates whose documents are issued or renewed during the application period remain eligible based on the final deadline date.

2.9 The Research and Recognition Committee (RRC) shall recommend the list of students to be admitted to the Ph.D. programme, along with the names of the Research Advisory Committee (RAC) members, to the University for the Registration Process.

3. Recognition of Supervising Teachers for Ph.D.

3.1 Eligibility Criteria for recognizing faculty members as Supervising Teachers for Ph.D.

3.1.1 Permanent faculty members, including those on probation, serving as Professors or Associate Professors with a Ph.D. and at least five research publications in peer-reviewed or refereed journals, are eligible for recognition as Ph.D. Supervising Teachers. Similarly, permanent faculty members, including those designated as Assistant Professors (even during their probation period), with a Ph.D. and at least three research publications in peer-reviewed or refereed journals, are also eligible.

3.1.2 Notwithstanding anything contained in 3.1.1, only the following faculty members are eligible for recognition as Ph.D. Supervising Teachers, provided they fulfil the educational qualifications and research publication requirements mentioned.

- a) All the Faculty members employed with the University Departments.
- b) Only those faculty members employed with government or grant-in-aid colleges where university-approved postgraduate centers in the relevant subjects are functioning.
- c) Faculty members employed with government, grant-in-aid, and self-finance colleges where a university-approved Research Center in relevant subject.

Fulfilment of any one of the aforementioned criteria i.e. a) to e) is mandatory for Ph.D. supervisor recognition.

- 3.1.3 Faculty members must meet both the educational and publication criteria outlined in Clauses 3.1.1 and 3.1.2. Those who do not meet these criteria shall not be eligible for recognition as Ph.D. Supervising Teachers.
- 3.1.4 Faculty members who were recognized as Ph.D. Supervisors before the notification of "The University Grants Commission's Minimum Standards and Procedures for Award of Ph.D. Degree Regulations, 2022," dated 7th November 2022, shall continue to be recognized as Ph.D. Supervisors and may be assigned new Ph.D. scholars.
- 3.1.5 Faculty members recognized as Ph.D. Supervisors on or after 8th November 2022 who do not meet the new criteria outlined in Clause 3.1.2 may continue to supervise Ph.D. students already assigned under the previous regulations but shall not be allocated new students under the UGC Regulations, 2022.
- 3.1.6 For programmes/subjects governed by professional councils, national commissions, or other statutory regulatory authorities, the eligibility criteria for recognizing faculty members as Ph.D. Supervising Teachers in those programmes/subjects shall be determined under the regulations of the respective professional council, national commission, or other respective statutory regulatory authority.

3.2 Manner and Procedure to be followed for recognizing faculty members as Supervising Teachers for Ph.D.

- 3.2.1 Any faculty member appointed to the position of Professor or Associate Professor at University Departments, where the eligibility criteria for said position mandates "recognition as a Ph.D. supervisor," shall be deemed to have been granted such recognition effective from the date of their appointment. This recognition is conferred by virtue of their designation and does not require any formal application or approval procedure.
- 3.2.2 Professors and Associate Professors employed in affiliated colleges who seek recognition as Ph.D. Supervising Teachers must submit an application in the prescribed format. The application should be forwarded to the respective Dean for recommendation. Upon receiving the Dean's recommendation, the application will be presented to the Academic Council for approval. Following approval by the Academic Council, the application will be submitted to the Board of Management for informational purposes. After the Board of Management acknowledges the resolution, a letter of recognition will be issued.

3.2.3 Assistant Professors seeking recognition as Ph.D. Supervising Teachers must apply in the prescribed format. The application shall be forwarded to the respective Head of the University Department. The Head will scrutinize the application, particularly fulfilling research publication criteria. If the Head deems the applicant eligible, the application will be forwarded to the Dean of the concerned faculty. The Dean will then assess the application and, if dean determine the Assistant Professor meets the criteria for Ph.D. supervision, he/she will propose a panel of experts in the relevant subject from outside of VNSGU to the Vice Chancellor. In the subjects wherein the University Department is not available, the application shall be forwarded directly to the Dean of respective faculty.

3.2.4 The Vice-Chancellor shall appoint two referees from the proposed panel or experts outside the panel, to evaluate the application. In the event that both referees submit positive recommendations, the application shall be placed before RRC for recommendation and the board of deans for approval and a formal letter of recognition shall be issued.

3.2.5 If both referees submit negative recommendations, the application for recognition as a Ph.D. Supervising Teacher shall be rejected.

3.2.6 In cases where one referee provides a positive recommendation and the other a negative recommendation, the application shall be referred to a third referee. The Vice-Chancellor shall appoint the third referee from the proposed panel or an expert outside the panel. Recognition shall be granted only if the third referee provides a positive recommendation. If the third referee also submits a negative recommendation, the application shall stand rejected.

3.2.7 In the event of rejection due to negative recommendations from the referees, the applicant shall be permitted to submit a fresh application with different research credentials.

4. Allocation of Research Supervisor to Research Scholar

4.1 A Professor, Associate Professor, or Assistant Professor who is recognized as a Research Supervisor shall be eligible to supervise, and/or as a Co-Supervisor, up to eight (8), six (6), and four (4) Ph.D. scholars, respectively, at any given time. However, for international students, the provisions of the relevant clause 11.1 shall apply.

4.2 The number of available seats, as specified in Clause 4.1, shall be considered vacant upon the submission of the synopsis by the research scholar. The vacated seat shall thereafter be made available for allocation to a new Ph.D. scholar.

4.3 In case of interdisciplinary/multidisciplinary research work, if required, a Co-Supervisor from outside the Department/ School/Centre/College/ University may be appointed with the permission of the university.

4.4 Recognised Ph.D. Supervisors with less than three years of service remaining before superannuation shall not be assigned new research scholars under their supervision. However, such Ph.D. Supervisors/Co-Supervisors can continue to supervise Ph.D. scholars who are already registered, until they attain the age of 70 years.

5. Fees for the Ph.D. Programme:

5.1 Recommended students shall be required to pay the prescribed registration fees, admission fees, term/semester fees, library fees, laboratory fees, and any deposits as determined by the University from time to time. These fees must be paid within the stipulated time frame.

5.2 All admitted Ph.D. scholars must pay the term/semester fees as determined by the University at the beginning of each new term/semester. This payment must be accompanied by the progress report of the preceding term/semester, duly signed by the members of the Research Advisory Committee.

5.3 In the event that a research scholar fails to pay the prescribed fees within the stipulated time, they shall be required to pay the term/semester fees along with a late fee as determined by the University from time to time.

5.4 The research scholar shall pay the prescribed examination fee at the time of submitting their synopsis.

5.5 In cases of re-registration, the research scholar shall pay the re-registration fees in addition to the term/semester fees, as determined by the University from time to time.

6. Course Work.-

6.1 The credit requirement for the Ph.D. coursework shall be a minimum of 12 credits. The Research and Recognition Committee may also recommend UGC-approved online courses as part of the credit requirements for the Ph.D. programme.

6.2 All candidates admitted to the Ph.D. programme must complete the coursework prescribed by the University within the first year (two semesters).

6.3 A Ph.D. scholar is required to secure a minimum of 55% marks or an equivalent grade on the UGC 10-point scale in the coursework to remain eligible to continue in the programme and to submit their thesis.

6.4 Ph.D. scholars may be assigned 4 to 6 hours of teaching or research assistantship per week, which could include conducting tutorials, assisting in laboratory work, or performing evaluation duties.

7. Duration of the Ph.D. Programme.-

7.1 The Ph.D. programme shall have a minimum duration of three years (six semesters), including coursework, and a maximum duration of six years (twelve semesters) from the date of registration to the Ph.D. programme.

7.2 An additional two years (four semesters) may be granted through the process of re-registration (registration number and date shall remain unchanged) upon the request of the research scholar, recommendation of the Research Advisory Committee (RAC), and approval of the Research and Recognition Committee (RRC). However, the total period for completing the Ph.D. programme shall not exceed eight years (sixteen semesters) from the date of registration.

Provided further that female Ph.D. scholars and Persons with Disabilities (having more than 40% disability) may be allowed an additional relaxation of two years (four semesters). In such cases, the total period for completing the Ph.D. programme shall not exceed ten years (twenty semesters) from the date of registration.

7.3 Female Ph.D. Scholars may be provided Maternity Leave/Child Care Leave for up to 240 days in the entire duration of the Ph.D. programme.

8. Research and Recognition Committee (RRC)

8.1 There shall be a Research and Recognition Committee (RRC) for each Board of Studies or a group of subjects, as determined by the University, in accordance with the provisions of Statute 24 (A) (2) of The Gujarat Public Universities Uniform Statutes, 2024.

8.2 The powers and functions of Research and Recognition Committee (RRC):

- 8.2.1 To evaluate research proposals, conduct interviews/viva-voce and/or research proposal presentations, and recommend the list of admitted candidates, including the approved research titles, allocation of Research Supervisors, and constitution of the Research Advisory Committee (RAC) for each recommended candidate, as prescribed in clause 9.1.
- 8.2.2 To propose the draft curriculum for the coursework to the Academic Council for approval.
- 8.2.3 To appoint a panel of paper setters and examiners for the purpose of question paper setting and evaluation of coursework examination.
- 8.2.4 To forward the evaluation report of the coursework examination to the Controller of Examinations for preparation and declaration of results.
- 8.2.5 To recommend a panel of referees for the evaluation of the thesis.
- 8.2.6 To appoint the Research Advisory Committee (RAC) for each admitted Ph.D. scholar. In the event of unforeseen circumstances, the Vice-Chancellor, in consultation with the Dean of the concerned faculty and/or the Chairperson of the Research Advisory Committee, may appoint or substitute an expert in the RAC.
- 8.2.7 To undertake any other academic, research, or development-related tasks as may be assigned by the Board of Deans, the Faculty, or the Academic Council.

9. Research Advisory Committee:

9.1 The composition of Research Advisory Committee for a Ph.D. Scholar:

- 9.1.1 The Research Supervisor of the concerned Ph.D. scholar shall act as the Convener of the Committee.
- 9.1.2 Two experts, who are recognized Ph.D. Supervising Teachers, shall serve as members of the Committee. These experts may be drawn from this University and/or other universities. However, in exceptional circumstances, the Vice-Chancellor may appoint a research scientist or a scholar with expertise in the relevant research area from a reputed and recognized research organization.

9.2 The powers and functions of Research Advisory Committee (RAC):

- 9.2.1 To periodically review, at least once every six months, the progress of the Ph.D. scholar's research work and provide appropriate recommendations to improve the study design and research methodology.
- 9.2.2 The Ph.D. scholar shall present and submit a brief report on the progress of their research work during the periodic review meetings. The Research Advisory Committee (RAC) shall evaluate the work, provide guidance, and submit its recommendations, along with the scholar's progress report, to the University. A copy of these recommendations shall also be shared with the Ph.D. scholar.
- 9.2.3 In case of any need to change or modify the research topic or title, the RAC shall approve the revision and communicate the same to the University for execution. The University shall intimate the change to the Ph.D. Supervisor, the concerned Ph.D. scholar, and the Research and Recognition Committee (RRC).
- 9.2.4 If the Research Advisory Committee (RAC) finds the progress of the Ph.D. scholar unsatisfactory, it shall document the reasons and propose corrective measures. If the scholar fails to implement these measures, the RAC may recommend, with specific justifications, the cancellation of the scholar's registration in the Ph.D. programme to the university for its execution. The University shall intimate the cancellation of the registration to the members of the RAC, the concerned Ph.D. scholar, and the Research and Recognition Committee (RRC).

- 9.2.5 The Research Advisory Committee (RAC) will evaluate the progress of research of its concerned Ph.D. Scholar and submit its report to the Research and Recognition Committee (RRC).
- 9.2.6 Before submitting the thesis, the Ph.D. scholar shall make a pre-thesis submission presentation before the Research Advisory Committee, which shall also be open to all faculty members and other research scholars.
- 9.2.7 The Research Advisory Committee of the candidate may suggest modifications, updation, and omissions if required, at the time of the pre-thesis submission presentation which may be complied by the candidate and approved by the Supervising Teacher before the submission of final thesis.
- 9.2.8 The Research Advisory Committee (RAC) shall submit a detailed report of the pre-thesis submission presentation to the University.
