Department of Comparative Literature Prospectus

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

While breathing in an age of globalization, we have to keep pace with the growing and changing world by widening our horizons on the one hand and striving hard to retain our identity on the other. This being a complex process, it needs some soothing factors which could lead to harmony and synthesis. The study of literature- Gujarati literature, Indian literature and world literature- is one among them.

With this philosophical foreground, Veer Narmad South Gujarat University, Surat was allotted the Department of Comparative Literature by UGC, Delhi, in 1986-87. The Department of Comparative Literature was established in 1991. The said full-fledged Department is the first of its kind in the western zone and second at one in the entire nation. The Department of Comparative Literature at Jadavpur University, Kolkata, was established in 1956. It was the first pioneering stone laid down in the land of Tagore, and ours is the second one in the land of Mahatma Gandhi. Since the inception of our Department, the Department of Comparative Literature at Jadavpura University has constantly remained our source of inspiration and guidance.

Only in 30 years, this Department has made remarkable progress in teaching, research, culture and publication. It was a new department that Dr. Ashvin Desai initially headed from 1992 to 2006. It was during his able headship that the Department started many noble traditions which are maintained even today. Dr. Savita Gaur directed the Department one year-from 2006 to 2007. After her retirement, Dr. Damyanti Parmar has been successfully heading the Department since 2007. Dr. Jashu Patel took the Headship of the Department as an I/C Head from 2016 to 2020 after Dr. Damyanti Parmar's retirement, followed by Dr. Mukesh Vasava has taken charge of the department as the Head from July 2025 onwards.

Some bright features and aspects of our Department.

- Three Professors of the Department, Dr Ashvin Desai, Dr Savita Gaur, Dr Damayanti Parmar, and one Assistant Professor Dr Mukesh Vasava have been the recognized guides of M. Phil and Ph.D. in Gujarati, Hindi and Comparative Literature.
- This Department has organized one international conference and seven national Seminars, and one workshop.
- More than sixty one students have completed their M.Phil and Ph.D. research work in this Department.
Currently One students carry on their research work in Our Department.
- 18 books have been published by the Professors and the research students of the Department with the Co-operation of Sahitya Akadami, Gujarat Granth Nirman Board and National Book Trust, Delhl.
- The Proressors and Students of the Department have participated and presented research papers at national and inter-national conferences, Seminars and workshops.
- Dr. Ashvin Desai, the Formar-Head of the Department, had been selected as a learned Writer by Sahitya Akadami and was sent to China where he negotiated with ten writers of the country.
- Dr Savita Gaur, the Ex-head of the Department completed her research project "Impact of the Bhagvad Gita on NRI in USA." within six months.
- Dr. Damyanti Parmar, the Ex-head of the Department has been selected for the award, Rashtriya Gaurav Award-2010" by India International Friendsnip Oclely (IFS), New Delhi, INDIA
- The Professors of the Department have served as the visiting lecturers, visitng fellows and subject resource persons in other universities and institutons. In the same way we have organized the lectures of the Professors who come from other universities as University Exchange of Teachers and visiting fellow.

- Four M.Phil students of the Department have received Rajiv Gandhi National Fellowship scheme from UGC.
- Dr. Mukesh Vasava is the first student to pass NET in Comparative Literature not only in South Gujarat but also in the whole Gujarat.
- Naresh Valvi is the Second student to pass NET in Comparative Literature not only in South Gujarat but also in the whole Gujarat.
- We also organize cultural programmes along with our academic activities. The students of the Department develop their career in other fields of the society also like media, administration, politics etc.
- Gujarati, Hindi & Sanskrit P. G. Centers are administrated under our Department since 2005. (Gujarati PG.Center From 2005 to 2013)
- Shri Kanaiyalal Munshi Adhyayan Ekam Prakalp Chair is conducted by our Department. (From 1993 to 2013) taking into consideration the literature and activities of Munshi, we organize conferences, workshops, lectures, academic and cultural activities.
- Without the detachment from our mother tongue Gujarati, our Department has made a constant progress in the teaching and research of Indian literature and world literature. We have developed a unique identity of our subjects, discipline and research method. Our Department which fosters Indian literature and culture has been making sincere and firm attempts to go in harmony with world literature and variety of cultures and to expand its horizons of knowledge and art. We have always been eager and active that our department steps on every stage success and progress. Finally I am thankful and grateful to those who have offered their love and co-operation in aspirations and attempts for bright future.

The vision of the department:

To lead to a harmonised world of brotherhood through the creative literature of enlightened human minds in their wisdom, sweetness and light.

To keep the focus on the mother-tongue and to have the vision of literature in its completeness, through methods like comparison, analysis, synthesis, etc.

To search and study the inherent unity among various literatures.

USPs of the department:

To study literatures comparatively by transcending the barriers of a specific language, literature, culture or nation.

To study the interrelationship between literature and philosophy, history, social sciences and other areas of human knowledge.

To get acquainted with national and world literatures and to come out of narrow parochialism of one language or one nation.

SEVENTH BIENNIAL INTERNATIONAL

CONFERENCE

MARCH 21-23, 2005

Seventh Biennial International conference was organized under the joint venture of veer Narmad South Gujarat University Surat, Dept. of Comparative Literature and Comparative Literature Association during 21-22-23 March, 2005. The conference was hosted by Veer Narmad South Gujarat University, Surat. It was a landmark event after the University had been accredited B++. The subject of the conference was 'Poetics of The Margins :Reinventing Comparative Literature'. 170 representatives of India and representative of German Association of Comparative Literature Prof S. Bagumi participated in the conference. It was inaugurated by the poet, novelist and journalist Shri BhagvatiKumar Sharma who, in his lecture told that society gives culture, samskara and literature which are supposed to be significant. This type of attitude is a drawback on the part of the society. The best literary works of Gujarati Literature should be translated quickly into other languages. He emphasized mainly on the translation work. Respected Vice Chancellor Premkumar Sharda said:

"The experience of pathos in sensibility creates literature and it expands feelings of the reader. There should be an integration between world literature and other literature, and other humanities." Amiya Dev, The Ex-vice Chancellor of Midnapur University of West Bengal, said about the inevitability of the re-establishment of Comparative Literature and discussed about folk-literature and dalit literature. The secretary of Comparative Literature Association of India, Dr. Chandramohan presented the annual report of CLAI. After the lecture of Dr. Ashvin Desai, the head of the dept. of Comparative Literature; Dr. Gurubhagat Singh, the President of CLAI threw light on the essence of the conference.

The six books on comparative Literature written by Dr. Ashvin Desai, Dr. Chaitnya Desai, Dr. Damyanti Parmar, Dr. Jashu Patel and Dr. Satish Chauhan were published at the inauguration of the conference. It was a memorable and gratifying moment. After the inauguration, the plenary session started. In that session, under the chairmanship of Dr. MahavirSinh Chauhan (Vallabh Vidhyanagar), Dr. Ganesh Devi (Vadodara) and Dr. Jasbir Jain (Jaipur) delivered their lectures on the tradition of Oral Literature, its achievement, and its importance.

About 170 participants were present in the conference. and 111 representatives presented their research papers in five parallel sessions. The learned creative writers and critics of Comparative Literature offered their service as the chairpersons of the sessions.

They are Dr. E.V. Ramakrishnan(Surat). Dr. Shubha Dasgupta (Kolkata), V.K. Sharma(Delhi), C. Ravindra(Mysore), S. Kanakraj(Madurai), S.P. Shukla, S.S. Sharma(Delhi), Dr. Savita Gaur(Surat), Dr. Damyanti Parmar(Surat), Basu Sen(Kolkata), Dipendargid Randhava(Punjab) and Ravindra Parekn(Surat) etc.

The prominent feature of the conference was that about 30 students presented their research papers mainly in Gujarati and Hindi. The dynamic participation of the student belonging to local regional languages in the conference was a remarkable event in the history of CLAI. More than 20 studios professors got themselves registered as the members of CLAI

Here, we must note down that the Department of Comparative Literature provided the platform for the professors of South Gujarat and the Gujarat state. The researchers presented their papers on cultural identity and globalization, Feminist literature, Dalit literature, Folk literature and Gujarati literature. Prof. S. Bogumile, as the representative of German Association of Comparative Literature, presented her essay on study of Katka with the help of overhead projector slide show. She gave the specimen presentation in French and German language.

Dr. Indranath Chaudhri, the academic director of Indira Gandhi National Centre of Arts (Delhi), said in the valedictory function that there was a lack of unity in known and less-known literature of Indian languages.

16-17/02/2024 National Seminar "Lokjivan me Ram"

Veer Narmad South Gujarat University, Department of Comparative Literature, Hindi-Sanskrit Center and Akhil Bhartiya Sahitya Parishad Nyas Delhi jointly organized a two-day National Symposium on 'Lok Jeevan Mein Ram' on February 16-17, 2024 at the University's Convention Hall. has been done. This national conference was chaired by the chancellor of the university Mr. Dr. Kishore Singh N. Chavda, general secretary Dr. Under the guidance of Rameshdan Gadhvi, in the presence of special guest Param Pujya Swami Nijanand Ji Brahmacharya Ashram Gotarka, Chief Guest All India Literary Council Organization Minister and writer Sridhar Paradkar, Honorable Guest All India Literary Council National General Secretary Rishikumar Mishra and Coordinator of Comparative Literature Department and All India Sahitya Parishad Gujarat. It was held on the invitation of the State Chief Minister Dr. Bharat Thakor.

The inaugural session of this two-day national conference was held on February 16, 2024 at 11 am. It started with Deep Prajavalan and Akhil Bharatiya Sahitya Parishad Nyas song and Saraswati song. Then all the guests present were welcomed by presenting Vishwa Vidyalaya khes, book, small replica of Sri Ram Mandir.

General Secretary of Vishwa Vidyalaya Mr. Dr. Rameshdan Gadhvi gave a brief welcome speech. In which he gave a verbal welcome to the stage guests present in the program, various members of the university administration, researchers, teachers, students and writers sitting in the auditorium. Citing reference to poet Narmad while talking about Lord Shri Ram in folk life, he said that the poet Veer Narmad, after whom this university is named, gave literature full of heroic interest to the society.

The coordinator of this National Symposium Mr. Dr. Bharat Thakore after the outline of the program welcomed all the stage guests, writers, teachers, researchers, students friends etc. present in the seminar. The seminar, seminar session, literati from Gujarat and the country, participated in the seminar and gave a detailed introduction to Akhil Bhartiya Sahitya Parishad, Nyas, Delhi and its various functions.

Special guest Swami Nijanandji of Brahmachari Ashram Gotaraka, keeping his thoughts in line with the topic, said that the reason why the name Ram has been echoing in the society for centuries till today is because Ram is not a person, not a king but an ideology. which have been alive as practices in society for centuries. According to him, human life is uncontrollable and dynamic, which is controlled by the name of Shri Ram. According to him Lord Rama is the vaccination of ideal life for man. Which will last for centuries. Ramdharma exists in all three periods hence called Sanatan. Shri Ram is the symbol of enduring values in the society. Sympathy towards all people in the society is Shri Ram. Sriram is the medicine that controls one's ambitions. Ayodhya is the center of Sankalpa regarding Rama. Resolutions taken here reach fulfillment.

The chief guest Shri Dhar Paradkar, Minister of National Organization of Akhil Bharatiya Sahitya Parishad, in his brief speech on the topic, said that there is a Rama in every person. Shri Ram is not a subject of intellect but a subject of practice. Ram is seen in folk life as a ritual, a life-giving form for some and a practice for others.

Rishi Kumar Mishra, National General Secretary of Akhil Bharatiya Sahitya Parishad, while giving his speech about Ram in public life, said that the cooperative Ram temple at Ayodhya in India establishes the importance of Ram in public life. According to him there is no field where Shri Ram is not present in some form or the other. Sri Rama's life suggests to the entire society how a life full of ideals and its identity can be identified. Sri Rama's life also indicates to the public how victory over Ravana is achieved by following Dharma. From the life of Rama, a person who is exemplary learns how his own work and the welfare of his enemy can be done. Religion of Praja Dharmapatni, religion towards brothers, religion towards society etc. are known from the life of Shri Ram.

In the concluding speech of the inaugural session, the Chancellor of the University Mr. Dr. Kishoresinh Chawda thanked the guests on the stage and all those present in the seminar. In his short speech, he expressed his thoughts about Sri Ram Mandir in Ayodhya, the first seminar of its kind, various industries in Surat, the working of Akhil Bharatiya Sahitya Parishad, the presence of Ram in the direct sphere of life, the evaluation of Ram's political works in the economic sphere, etc.

In the first meeting of the inaugural session, various speakers expressed their views on the theme of the seminar. These speakers include honorable Dr. Sudha Sharma, Dr. Nikhil Kelkar, Dr. Vimal Khamar and Dr. Gelji Bhatia were present. Dr. Sudha Sharma gave a brief lecture on Ramarajya, Rammaya Vishva, Sri Ram's equanimity towards all people, observance of duty and worship of Ram Charitra etc.

In the second meeting of the session honorable Suman Chaurse, Mrs. Dr. Dinanath Patil, Shri Yatin Kataria, Shri Jaymal Desai, Shri Jay Shri Narang and Dr. Mahendra Nai gave brief lectures on the subject.

At the end of the inaugural session, vote of thanks was done by Mr. Dr. Bharatbhai Thakor, Coordinator, Department of Comparative Literature and the entire program was moderated by Dr. Kiran Mittal, Co-Coordinator, Department of Journalism and Mass Communication.

One-day National Seminar: "The Hindi Language: Today and Tomorrow"

Dt. 20/09/2025

A one-day national seminar titled "Hindi Language: Today and Tomorrow" was organized on September 20, 2025, by the Department of Comparative Literature, Veer Narmad South Gujarat University, Surat, as part of the Hindi Fortnight celebrations. The program commenced in the traditional manner with the lighting of a lamp at the feet of Goddess Saraswati by the dignitaries. The program was conducted in three sessions to cover a wide range of topics.

In the first session, two Hindi students were awarded scholarships by officials from UCO Bank of India; the Vice-Chancellor of the university, Hon'ble Dr. Kishorsinh N. Chavda, and the Registrar, Hon'ble Dr. Rameshdan Gadhvi, also graced the occasion with their presence despite their busy schedules.

In the second and third sessions, the keynote speaker was the Vice-Chancellor of Birsa Munda Tribal University, Rajpipla, Hon'ble Dr. Madhukar Padvi, and other speakers included Prof. Dr. Naranbhai Gamit from Hindi Bhavan, Saurashtra University, Rajkot, and Prof. Dr. Manishkumar Mishra from K.M. Agrawal College (affiliated with Mumbai University), Kalyan West, Maharashtra, who shared their insights.

In their distinguished addresses, these eminent personalities enriched all the attendees with their invaluable thoughts. They shed light on the history of Hindi and its immense potential, and provided detailed information about the remarkable work being done in the field today.

The Head of the Department, Dr. Mukesh Vasava, along with all the faculty members, office staff, and support staff of the department, played their respective roles in making the program a success. The students also participated enthusiastically.

‘No Poet, no artist of any art has his complete meaning alone. His Significance, his appreciation is the appreciation of his relation to the dead Poest and artists. You cannot value him alone; you must set him for contrast and comparison, amongn the dead. I mean this as a principal of aesthetic, not merely histtorical criticism’.

-T. S. Eliot
