- 4 Make a precis of the passage given below and give it a suitable title : 7

In every country people imagine that they are the best and the cleverest and the others are not so good as they are. The Englishman thinks that he and his country are the best. The Frenchman is very proud of France and everything French. The Germans and Italians think no end of their countries. Many Indians imagine that India in many ways is the greatest country in the world. This is all conceit. Everybody wants to think well of himself and his country. But there is no person who has not some good in him and some bad. And in the same way there is no country which is not partly good and partly bad. We must take the good wherever we find it and try to remove the bad wherever it may be. We are most concerned with our country India. It is in a bad way today and most of our people are very poor and miserable. They have no pleasure in their lives. We have to find out how we can make them happier.
