Narendra, a dashing young man, was wandering in the streets of Calcutta. He was burning with the desire to find out God. He became restless and decided to meet the Saint Ramakrishna at the Kali temple of Dakshineswar. He had heard from people that this Saint had seen the goddess as a child sees his mother. One day, in the morning, he went to the Kali Temple and there he met with the Saint Ramakrishna. The Saint was so happy to see him that he expressed his great love and willingness to accept him as his disciple. Both embraced each other with great joy and admiration. Ramakrishna's eyes were full of tears and Narendra was very much overwhelmed with the love of his future guru. He began to visit his ashram regularly and joined his disciples. Later on, he became his favourite and brilliant disciple whom Ramakrishna gave a new name. We know him popularly as Swami Vivekananda who went to address the religious leaders from the entire World at Chicago, America.
