- 4 Write a precis of the following passage and give it a suitable title. 7

Interdependence is and ought to be as much the ideal of man as self sufficiency. Man is a social - being without inter-relation with society he can not realise his oneness with the universe or suppress his egotism. If man were so placed or could so place himself to be absolutely above all dependence on his fellow - beings, he would become so proud and arrogant as to be a veritable burden and nuisance to the world. Dependence on society teaches him the lesson of humanity. That man ought to be able to satisfy most of his essential needs himself is obvious; but it is no less obvious that when self - sufficiency is carried to the length of isolating oneself from society, it almost amounts to sin. A man can not become self - sufficient in respect of all the various operations from the growing of cotton to the spinning of the yarn. He has at some stage or other to take the aid of the members of his family and if one may take the help from one's own family, why not from one's neighbours ? or otherwise what is the significance of the great saying 'The world is my family' ?
