Q.2 Read the following paragraph and answer the questions given below: 10

I have always held the view that the administration of justice is a cooperative effort, an effort in which both the judge and the lawyer act in concert with one another. There is a growing tendency to hustle advocates, and in the name of despatch, decide cases without giving a fair hearing to the lawyer. I am all for despatch and for quick decisions, but despatch must not be con- fused with hustle. A good judge can let an advocate have his full say, control his advocacy, understand and appreciate his point, and yet not permit time to be wasted by irrelevance. The duty of an advocate is not to convert the judge to his point of view; his duty see that the judge has understood and appreciated his side of the case and his arguments. By the same token, it is not the duty of the judge to convert the lawyer, because the lawyer is paid not to be converted.
